George Washington substitutions: Barrows for Clapper; Gates for Clement; McGrew for Sanders.

Lafayette: Morrison for Wilson; Woodfin for Guest; Rambo for Chimenti; Wolbert for Shellenberger; Warren for Thompson; Bobinski for Sarni; Tellier for Kressler; Murberg for Miller; Elliott for Shelley; Rothenberg for McKean; Gebhard for Houser; Leisenring for Wolbert; Fuhrer for Murberg; Wilson for Morrison; Guest for Woodfin; Chimenti for Rambo; Shellenberger for Wolbert; Thompson for Warren; Sarni for Bobinski; Kressler for Tellier; Miller for Murberg; Shelley for Elliott; McKean for Rothberg; Houser for Gebhard; Sherriff for Wilson.

Twenty-five substitutions against three. Figure it out for yourself. And St. Francis comes next Saturday, followed by the City College of New York, College of William and Mary, and Penn State. As a cartoonist has said, "These guys have got to be iron this year."

They tell us that when the Colonials invaded ex-Prexy Lewis' home town, they went to a show and disgraced themselves in the eyes of all good Pennsylvanians by applauding un-ironically when the orchestra played "Dixie." Personally, we think the team deserves a lot of credit. Any team that holds the highest scoring team in the East to four touchdowns, and applauds for a southern melody in a northern town is worthy of much commendation.

Headline in last issue that we overlooked read, "Kingdom of God" to be sponsored by G. W. Women." How kind of them.

Our friends out at Catholic University write in The Tower: "Catholic U. fans find comfort in the decisive defeat handed to George Washington by Fordham." And now, we announce that George Washington finds considerable comfort in the decisive defeat handed to Catholic University by Villanova. For after all, everybody knows Fordham, but say, where is Villanova from anyhow? And the headline of a local paper reads "Villanova Crushes C. U." So there.

Rushing takes unusual turns, even when it has been made a science, as at George Washington. One sorority, we heard, conducted a treasure hunt, which caused its participants to clamor all over the west gate of the White House, invade darkened parked cars near the Lincoln Memorial with the aid of kindly park police, and dash madly into the midst of the Episcopal Convention in search of elusive slips of paper directing the contestants onward.

And did you notice how interested sorority girls were when the fire broke out in the Chi O rooms Saturday? We personally noted representatives of six groups carefully checking each freshman that came from the burning edifice.

As a mere man, we observe that when a whole group of women can't handle one lone gas range, it's a pretty poor recommendation to men who are matrimonially inclined. Maybe it's still the old adage of too many cooks.

A Hoover and Curtis Club is to be formed by George Washington students, so we suppose that it won't be long before all the Smiths in the University unite in supporting Al. Dick Rollo pledges his entire support to Will Rogers, Anti-Bunk Candidate. Rah, Rah, Rah!

The Ghost, gasping weakly, emerges from the tomb, and will present a Political Number as a prelude to the election. Our guess is that the cover design will carry elephants, donkeys, goats, and other animals frequently seen after a particularly wild party.

Speaking of elections, we are reminded of a tragedy here on our own campus. Election day for freshmen is scheduled for November 1, and sorority pledging will not take place until November 5. What a shake-up in the usual line-ups will occur, with all women voting independently! Or perhaps, a co-ed will be told, "If you vote for Mary Smith, Sue Jones, Anne Brown, and Tom Hoozit, we'll bid you to dear old Alpha Omega."

But at any rate, what a lot of electioneering there will be. We're glad we're not a freshman, but just DICK ROLLO.

FROSH ELECTIONS WILL TAKE PLACE THURSDAY, NOV. 1

All Colleges to Select Freshman Officers at Coming Election

VACANCIES IN CLASS OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Students' Eligibility Must Be Determined; no Electioneering Will be Permitted

Elections for the Freshman classes in Columbian College, the School of Pharmacy, the Division of Library Science, and the Division of Fine Arts will take place on Thursday, November 1, from 12.45 to 2.00 and from 6.10 to 7.30. Students in the School of Government will vote with Columbian College.

A tie, left over from the elections of last spring, in the office of President of the Senior Class of the School of Engineering, will also be decided. Those running are Roy Orndorff and Kenneth Mulford.

Under existing regulations, a vacancy will be filled by the officer next in rank, the order being: President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Sergeant-at-Arms. A vacancy in the office of Sergeant-at-Arms will be filled by the appointment of the president of the class. The president of the Sophomore Class of the School of Engineering having been declared ineligible, the Sergeant-at-Arms will now be appointed according to this ruling.

Nominations Made By Petition

Names will be placed on the ballots by petition, the signatures of five qualified voters other than the nominee being sufficient. The petitions must be filed with the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, or Professor W. R. West, of the faculty of the Department of Political Science, by 5.00 o'clock of October 25. However, voters will be permitted to write in the names of candidates on the ballots.

Petitioners are warned to be sure that their candidates are eligible for the office under the rules. They should also make certain of their own class status before nominating for an office. In the elections of last spring a great many nominations were found to be invalid both through ineligibility of candidates and through mistakes as to the class status of petitioners. This can be avoided if petitioners are prepared early enough for a search to be made in the Registrar's Office and defects to be corrected. It will be wise to have the petitions checked before filing them as directed above.

No Electioneering Permitted

Freshmen just entering the University, as well as other students whose class status is questioned, will place their ballots in envelopes bearing their names on the outside. This is due to the fact that the list of Freshmen has not been completed and a search will have to be made of each new voter's status.

No electioneering will be permitted at the place of elections. Voters must mark their ballots independently, and no conversation will be permitted with any except officials.

Under the auspices of the Sophomore Class, a Freshman meeting will be held at 12.10, in Room 1, of Corcoran Hall. This meeting will immediately precede elections, and candidates will be presented.

COLONIAL WIG HOLDS NOVEL COMPETITION

Contest Running in Stray Locks Department Already Receiving Replies

"G. W.'s Greatest Need," the subject of the one-sentence Stray Locks contest now running in the Colonial Wig, has already received replies, according to Mary Lewis Beard, directing the contest. The deadline for contributions is Saturday, October 27.

Contributions must comply with the following regulations, according to the Board of Editors of the Wig. Sentences must not exceed twenty words; they must be deposited in Building 6, Room 31, not later than October 27, inscribed with name and address of the author. Selected statements will be published in the November issue of the Wig.

Original manuscripts of any form of prose or verse by any student in the colleges will be considered by the Editorial Board of the magazine for publication. These may be left in the Wig box in Building 6.

Due to the resignation of Pern Henninger, Jack Vivian has been appointed acting business manager of the Wig. Vivian was formerly business manager of the Eastern High School publication.

JUNIOR COEN A FROSH

LAWRENCE, (IP)—Junior Coen, Kansas City representative on the Olympic team for America this summer, has matriculated at the University of Kansas this year a freshman.

Fire In Chi O Rooms Enlivens Noon Rush Hour On Saturday

During the height of the noon rush hour on Saturday, October 13, a fire was discovered in Building 10, 2024 G Street. Two engines arrived promptly. Girls were seen at the windows on the top floor and the great crowd that had gathered in front of the building waited in suspense for someone to jump. Dr. Moss, whose office is in that building, came out hurriedly just as the flames went in.

All traffic on G and Twenty-first Streets was temporarily suspended. Girls came out as firemen went in. So it was therefore plain to the spectators that the fire was in the chapter rooms of Chi Omega which are located on the top floor.

It seems that the main cause of the conflagration was a gas stove on which the members of the sorority were preparing lunch. A pan of rolls caught afire in the oven, but Private Charles Comegys, of Engine 23, played the hero part and rescued the remaining rolls.

The police patrol was the last to arrive on the scene and took charge of the traffic situation. The loss is uncertain but seems to be the price of a few lunches at the Green Lantern.

Among the most prominent spectators was Dean Doyle, who after having satisfied himself that there were no men in the affair went back to his office.

The affair being a rush luncheon gave the other sororities a chance to see just whom Chi Omega intended to pledge.

GHOST TO APPEAR ON NEW FOOTING

Political Number First Issue of Current Year, Out in October

NEW BOARD NAMED

William Brawner Named Chairman and Dove Thompson, Business Manager of Publication

Contributions are solicited for the Ghost, comic magazine of the University, by the recently appointed Board of Editors of the publication. The first issue of the Ghost under the new Board and on the footing on which it will be run this year, will be the Political Number, appearing sometime in October.

The Publications Committee, in laying down the policy which it expects the Board of Editors of the Ghost to follow, indicated the following as essential points of policy:

1. That all material used be in good taste, unoffensive, free from suggestiveness or vulgarity; 2. That an attempt be made to strike out along original lines and to develop new fields of college humor.

Commenting on the new footing on which the Ghost is established, Dean Doyle said:

"We have room at George Washington University for a really funny, clever humorous paper. We have no room for a slavish imitation of the type of 'college comic' which is under attack by college students themselves all over the United States because of its suggestiveness and vulgarity, sometimes carried to the point of obscenity and indecency.

"I am convinced that neither our students nor their parents wish such a publication to be circulated under the name of George Washington University, and the Board of Editors of the Ghost will be expected to put out a magazine that shall be inoffensive on that score.

"So much for the negative side. On the constructive side, the Board will be expected to encourage and develop new and original departments and fields of humor, so that the George Washington University Ghost may ultimately come to be recognized as a clever publication of an unusual type—the superlatively good product which alone is fit to bear the name of George Washington."

The present Board of Editors is composed of the following students: Chairman, William Brawner; Secretary, Emily Pilkinton; Elizabeth Buntin, Elizabeth Ford, Rowland Lyon, Bernard Nordlinger, Aubrey Somerville, Acting Business Manager, William Dove Thompson.

Drawings must be submitted to Elizabeth Buntin, 7328 Blair Road, and literary contributions to William Brawner 78 Kalorama Circle or in the office of The University Hatchet, Friday at noon.

NEW BOTANY ASSISTANT

Mr. Paul Monk of the Department of Agriculture, has been added to the staff of the Botany Department of George Washington University, due to an increase of forty-four per cent in that division.

Mr. Monk received his A. B. from Maryland University, and M. A. from the University of North Carolina. He has been working in the Plant Disease Laboratory of the Department of Agriculture.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES TO ASSIST BENEFIT

Rows In Balcony To Be Reserved For Greek Letter Groups

PROMINENT PEOPLE HAVE TAKEN BOXES

President and Mrs. Marvin and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lerner Box Holders

Through the Panhellenic Association and the Interfraternity Council, sororities and fraternities on the campus will be organized to assist in the promotion of the Columbian Women theatre benefit, to be given on the evening of October 29, at Poli's Theatre, when Ethel Barrymore will give the first Washington presentation of her new play, "The Kingdom of God," by Martinez Sierra, famous Spanish playwright.

According to present plans, a number of rows of the balcony will be reserved for the sororities and fraternities, each organization being represented by a group of its members sitting together. Sorority and fraternity banners will be in evidence, lending a gala air to the occasion.

Virginia Mitchell, President of the Panhellenic Association, and George Von Dachenhausen, President of the Interfraternity Council are calling special meetings of their respective organizations to consider the plan and it is expected that arrangements will be completed within a few days.

Seats Now on Sale

Seats for the benefit performance are now on sale, at regular prices. Orchestra seats are $3.00; logs, $2.50; A to D rows in the balcony, $2.00; rows E to H $1.50; rows I to L $1.00 and rows L to Z, $.50. The $1.00 seats may be obtained from the office of Dean Rose or Dean Doyle.

Many prominent Washington people have taken boxes for the performance. Among the box holders are President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Lerner, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Lissner, Mr. Julius Garfinkel, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Richardson, Dr. and Mrs. Dewitt C. Croissant, Mr. Emil Berliner, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sidney Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Farrington, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Heurich, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tompkins and Mrs. Delos Blodgett.

Women Voters Lend Support

The executive board of the District of Columbia League of Women Voters has pledged itself to support the benefit, and has taken two boxes for the performance. Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, President of the League, is a former president of The Columbian Women.

The play which is to be the attraction at the benefit performance opened in Cleveland on October 8, and was given an enthusiastic welcome by the capacity audience, which included standees.

After a week's engagement in Cleveland, Miss Barrymore will visit Washington for the benefit performance and will then return to New York to open the Ethel Barrymore Theatre which is being built for her.

Martinez Sierra is Author

Martinez Sierra, the Spanish dramatist who is the author of "The Kingdom of God," is a producer as well as a dramatist. After writing a long list of plays, and making an even longer one of translations from four languages into Spanish, Senor Martinez Sierra in 1916, organized a company of his own for the presentation of modern Spanish drama in Madrid. In Spain this company, known as the Martinez Sierra Spanish Art Theatre, has found for itself a place in the foremost ranks of producing companies.

In the spring of 1927 the company visited New York after a tour of South America and played a three-week's engagement. Senor Martinez Sierra said on his arrival that he aimed to show America that Spain is not backward in dramatic art. The production of several plays, by Martinez Sierra and others, was considered of especially high standard. The works were played in Spanish. A visit to the Latin American countries was started by the company during the early part of this year.

LAW PROF. ON LEAVE

Professor Henry W. Edgerton has been granted a leave of absence for the academic year 1928-29 to instruct at the University of Chicago, where he was invited to teach as a visiting professor of law.

Previously it has been erroneously stated in The Hatchet that Professor Edgerton was granted this leave to attend the University of Chicago Law School.

COLONIALS SHOW BATTLE TO POWERFUL LAFAYETTE TEAM IN EXCITING GAME

High Scoring Team of East Held to Twenty-Eight Points by Stubborn Buff and Blue Defense; Light Colonial Backs Wage Useless Offense Against Opponents

SANDERS AND "BABE" CLAPPER LOST TO TEAM; FEW RESERVES SPOIL EARLY SCORING CHANCE

Carey Stars for George Washington Eleven in Versatile Display; Barrows, Gates and McGrew Are Only Substitutions for the Colonials to Twenty-Five for Lafayette Eleven

By WILLIAM DISMER, JR.

Waging a gallant fight against almost insurmountable odds, the plucky George Washington football team went down in defeat before a heavier and more experienced Lafayette eleven last Saturday by a score of 28-0. The margin of victory does not nearly indicate the stubbornness with which the Pennsylvania team was resisted, and a lot of credit belongs to the men under Coach Crum, who expressed himself thoroughly pleased with the showing that his team made.

The Colonials were hit by two serious blows during the game which handicapped them tremendously and left the team in a woeful condition for future games. Clapper, backfield star and shining light of the Hatchette offense, had his leg severely wrenched early in the first quarter and had to be carried from the field. While lying on the stretcher at the sidelines, "Babe" was kicked by one of the players when a play was executed near him, and received an ugly scalp wound. It is doubtful when he will play again.

NEW DRAMA CLUB TO MEET OCT. 24

New Organization of Interest to Students in All Branches Of Dramatics

CLUB TO AID PRODUCTION

Cast for the Annual Varsity Production to be Taken From Active Members of New Club

The first meeting to the George Washington University Drama Club will be held on October 24, in Room 21, of Corcoran Hall, at 8 p. m. o'clock.

Everyone who has any aspiration for a part in the annual varsity play is strongly urged to take an active part in the work of this newly organized club. The heads of the organization, however, explain that not only those interested in the drama from the acting point of view but also those interested in the producing branch are invited to attend.

It is stated that the object of this club is to gather in one group all those people in the University interested in drama either from the literary or the histrionic angles. The club will endeavor to have prepared programs at each meeting in which all members will participate.

The Drama Club is being sponsored by the Producing Staff of The Players, the organization which produces the varsity show near the close of the school year. As in the case of last year, the annual production will be presented for one week at the Wardman Park Theater.

It was intimated by Edward Moulton, Student Member of the Faculty committee on Dramatics, that the cast for the varsity show will be chosen on the basis of the work done by individuals in the Drama Club.

HONORARY SOCIETY FOR FRESHMEN PROPOSED

Dean Doyle Meets With High-Rating Sophomores to Discuss Plans

Under the leadership of Henry Gratton Doyle, Dean of Men, a meeting of the highest rating students of last year's Freshman class was held Monday for the purpose of deciding upon the merits of an honorary scholastic fraternity for qualifying freshmen. After Dean Doyle had stated the purpose of the convention, the business of choosing the fraternity was undertaken, and a petition for a charter was drawn up and sent to the Phi Eta Sigma fraternity, a national honorary scholarship fraternity for freshmen.

This step is the culmination of a movement, long under way, for the proper acknowledgement of meritorious scholastic endeavor on the part of those freshmen who have the highest standing at the end of the year. The need for such an honorary fraternity has long been felt, not only because of the stimulus it will give to the incoming student, but also because there has never been a proper reward for good scholarship.

As further plans rest on the correspondence from the Phi Eta Sigma fraternity, the exact future status of the project will be unknown until an answer is received. The committee, however, believes that an answer should be forthcoming shortly, and views the entire scheme with enthusiasm.

"Squint" Sanders, 118-pound quarterback, was the other member of the D. C. team to be seriously injured. After catching a long pass, "Squint" was hit by two Lafayette players and went down in a heap. Being unable to move, it was discovered that his leg was broken in two places above the knee, and an ambulance was immediately sent for him to take him to the hospital, where he stayed until Sunday night. Sanders will be unable to play again this season. This absence will leave a big hole in the team.

Carey Stars

The only bright spot in the Colonials' defeat was the outstanding performance of Jim Carey, star end. Carey was called upon to do most everything in a game and he came through brilliantly. Not only doing all of the punting, Jim was likewise on the directing end of most of the passes and his accuracy accounted for most of the Colonials' long gains. It was the first time that Carey had ever done any punting, but a couple of his long 30-yard heaves made him appear as a seasoned veteran in the art.

During the encounter Lafayette used two complete teams, altogether making 25 substitutions as compared to G. W.'s three.

The first score came within the first five minutes of play when Lafayette took the ball on the G. W. 40-yard line and marched straight down the field for a touchdown. A 17-yard gain by Wilson aided in bringing the ball to the 1-yard line, where Chimenti went over for the score.

The second marker came early in the second quarter when Guest went over for a touchdown from the 5-yard to where Shellenberger had returned Carey's punt.

Taking the ball on the 35-yard stripe, Lafayette made a steady march down the field for their third score. From the 13-yard line, Guest carried the ball over in three plays.

Line plunges and a 23-yard pass placed the ball on the 10-yard line from where Rambo wiggled through the entire G. W. line for the final score.

First Quarter

Clapper ran the kick-off back to the 20-yard line. After a one-yard gain through center, the ball was taken to the 25-yard mark. After being held, Carey kicked to Chimenti on the 50-yard line, who ran the ball back to the G. W. 40-yard stripe.

Wilson went through the line for 5 yards. Guest took the ball to the 31-yard line and Chimenti tore through tackle to the 24-yard line and a first down. G. W. took time out to recover its stride. Guest went to the 19-yard line but fumbled on the next play and G. W. recovered the ball.

Clapper was stopped with no gain. Clapper hit the line for 2 yards. Carey kicked to Shellenberger, on Lafayette's 45-yard line, who returned the ball to G. W. 40-yard mark. Clapper was hurt on this play and forced to leave the game with a wrenched knee. Barrows was sent in to take his place.

Wilson went through to the 23-yard line and a first down. Chimenti hit center for 5 yards. Shellenberger passed to Wilson who ran to the 15-

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1923

TO THE LAST MAN

Aristotle allowed that the stars control the destinies of men. If this be so, the signs of the Zodiac are at their most unfavorable point for Coach Maud H. Crum. Why the gods of football should take it upon themselves to lay Saunders, crack quarterback of the G. W. Ironmen, low at this early hour in the 1923 season seems almost inexplicable unless they be totally devoid of sporting instincts. Coach Crum being only mortal, can do nothing but struggle on, facing Colossuses of the North, such as Penn State, and giants of our own vicinity, such as William and Mary, with a line up to the standards of the best, but with a backfield all but destitute of reserve material, and now even more impoverished by the loss of Saunders.

His only hope lies in the chance that Lopeman, Clapper, McGrew, and Berkowitz have the miraculous good fortune to play an entire season against strong opposition without injury. This is conclusive proof that to play good football a coach must have good material in enough quantity to allow for the accidents which are inevitable in college football. The Ironmen can but girt their loins, and go forth to battle, chanting the war cry, "In God lies our strength."

COLUMBIAN WOMEN BENEFIT

The Columbian Women's Benefit performance to be given at Poli's on the 29th of this month should receive the support of the entire student body. The proceeds from the benefit will be used for a women's rest room in the new unit which is soon to be built on the campus. A rest room which is amply fitted for the needs of women students of the University is certainly a most worth while project. Non-sorority girls especially will be benefitted by this feature of the new unit inasmuch as rest room facilities about the college at the present time are rather limited.

The sororities and fraternities are taking the lead in assisting Mrs. Wiley and the Columbian women sell tickets for the benefit performance. The idea of having the various groups seated in the loge with their fraternity banners should add color and school spirit to the occasion. By this arrangement outsiders will know that the student body of George Washington is desirous of co-operating with any agency which has as its aim the advancement of the University, and the modernizing of any building in connection with our institution.

Students should not wait for someone to approach them before buying a ticket. Tickets are available in the offices of the Dean of Men and Women and we should give our encouragement to the Columbian women by arranging to attend the benefit on the 29th.

Much discussion is "in the air" as to the parties—bridges, teas, treasure hunts, circus side-shows—that are being given by all the sororities on the campus. Many poor freshmen are literally being "rushed to death" with dinners, dances and what not, and yet, we would wager there are many freshmen who have not received any invitations, with the possible exception of the first tea. These freshmen may wonder concerning this and may feel out of the "fray." The cause may be "legion," but the freshmen should not feel "outside." Many girls of the University have made outstanding records for themselves and without the aid of a sorority—if a sorority is an aid to fame.

These girls may or may not have had an opportunity to join a sorority, but the fact remains that they possessed that quality which was to lead them to places of leadership on the campus. On the other hand, there is much good material on the campus which can not be discovered in such a short rushing period. The point of this story is that the girls who do not pledge sororities should not feel "left out." Goals are held out to girls in all phases of sports, literary activities are offered by the various publications of the University, and social contacts may be found in the organizations of the campus. It is up to you, freshmen, to find your place in this, your University.

One week of rushing over and two to go! The campus is speculating anxiously as to whether the rushees and sorority girls can stand even one more week like the last—not to mention two! Whether the concern is that they will or that they won't, we'd rather not say. Just what will happen should a state of total collapse prevail at the end of the next week has not as yet been submitted to Pan Hellenic. In spite of everything, there is nothing quite like the old sorority rushing—especially for the freshmen and those who get stag bids and things. Anyway, it's great fun, and may the best order win—or have you heard that before?

Phi Delta gave a rush party on October 12, in the form of a luncheon at the Madrilion.

Professor Ragatz has been entertaining Dr. Ryoza Matsumoto of Tokyo, a former classmate at the University of Wisconsin, during the past ten days. Dr. Matsumoto recently completed his graduate study in sociology and is returning to his home by way of Europe after an absence of seven years.

Chi Sigma Gamma chemical sorority held its first business meeting of the year at the Women's Building on Wednesday evening.

Pi Beta Phi Fraternity gave a rush tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Vivian Ward.

Chi Omega entertained at a luncheon in the rooms on Saturday, October 13th.

Mrs. Hargrave, the House Mother at the S. A. E. House, entertained from 3 to 5 on Friday, October 12th, for the mothers of the members of the fraternity.

Sigma Kappa held a "49'ers" party last night at the home of Evelyn Fletcher.

Chi Omega is holding its Rush Dance at the Bannockburn Country Club on Friday, October 19th.

Bannockburn was also the spot chosen for the Sigma Kappa Rush Dance, which is to be held on Thursday, October 18th.

Louise Spratt spent the week-end at Princeton.

Kitty Beall, Margaret Mitchell, Eleanor Willson, Marjorie Simonds, Katherine Palmer, Catherine and Christine Bannerman, with several rushees, spent the week-end at Lucy McGraw's home in Gaithersburg.

A tea was held Sunday at the home of Lydagene and Margaret Black for the Phi Mu rushees.

Mrs. Marvin, Dean Rose, Miss Kincannon and Miss Cooper were among the guests of honor at the rush tea given by Alpha Delta Theta in the chapter rooms on October 7. Alpha Delta Theta gave a bridge luncheon at the apartment of Miss Evelyn Best on October 11.

Phi Alpha announce the pledging of the following men: Morton Adams of New Haven, Walter S. Dolinsky of Brooklyn, Avon Vernon Feldser of Harrisburg, Raymond Guad of New York City, Max Katz of Greenpoint, L. I. Alfred Abramson of Alexandria, Arthur Joseph Goldin of Greenpoint, David Wall and Samuel Weinstein of Washington.

New pledges of Phi Alpha attended the joint dance given in Baltimore by the Eta and Beta chapters of the University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins, respectively, on September 30th.

A dance was held at the house October 7, and was well attended by both fraternity brothers, pledges and guests. The music was furnished by the Dagmoir Band of this city.

Dr. Danzansky of the alumni announced a reunion banquet of the Alpha and Gamma alumni at the City Club, October 14th. All members and guests were invited.

A dance was held Friday night October 12th, at College Park by the Epsilon Chapter of the Phi Alpha Fraternity.

The dance given by Sigma Nu at its chapter house on Friday, October 12, was pronounced a complete success by all those who attended. The music was furnished by Emery Dougherty's Club Lido Orchestra.

Sigma Chi will hold a dance at the chapter house on Saturday, October 20.

The annual Apache Party given by Chi Omega was held last Friday night at the home of Elsie Talbert. Costumes in keeping with the occasion added to the fun of the evening. Specialty dances were given by Julia Denning, Betty Brandenburg and Hattie Wise, and Helen Walten recited and sang several selections.

Pi Phi held a rotating bridge for their rushees on Tuesday evening.

Kappa Delta will hold a Japanese Luncheon at the chapter house on Friday, October 19.

Judge Mary O'Toole, who is a member of the Chi Omega Fraternity gave a tea at the Women's City Club on Saturday, October 13, to which members of the active and alumnae chapters of Chi Omega were invited.

Gamma Beta Pi entertained several of their rushees at a supper party at the home of Virginia Blackstone on Sunday, October 14.

Zeta Tau Alpha held a Bowery Party on Tuesday night, October 9.

Chi Omega entertained a number of freshmen and their mothers at tea on Sunday, October 14, at the home of Mrs. Eva Hamline.

Gamma Beta Pi gave a luncheon in the fraternity rooms on Saturday, October 13, and another on Tuesday, October 16.

Quite a large delegation of the coeds attended the opening hop last week-end at Annapolis. Some of those who went were: Hazel Gabbard, Sarah Sanders, Helen Kerr, Bernar-dine Horn, Helen Walker, Martha Williams, Sally and Margaret Ferguson, Peggy Rees, Muriel Davis, Betty Waller, Carolyn Jackson, Betty Miles and Billie McKelvey.

Several Chi Omegas and freshmen and their "dates" were the guests of Libbie Baltz on her yacht on Sunday, October 14. After a short trip down the river the boat was anchored and many hot dogs, potato chips, and the usual requisites for a picnic luncheon were consumed. Before the party returned everyone had to undertake at least one ride in the speed boat.

Professor Kayser entertained the pledges of Theta Upsilon Omega, Bucky Herzog, Master of the chapter, and Pledge Master McGraw at luncheon at the National Press Club last Wednesday.

Joe Walstrom sailed last Thursday for Guatemala to take up his duties in the Foreign Trade Division of the Department of Commerce.

Firth Marquis returned to school last week after a summer spent taking in the sights of Europe.

Bob Geisler after receiving his LL. B. left on a 30,000 mile trip around the world. Latest reports have him in Shanghai. After completion of this trip he expects to enroll in the Harvard School of Finance.

Gate and Key will hold their opening fall dance at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon House, Saturday night.

The initiation of the seventeen men recently pledged to Gate and Key, Honorary Interfraternity Society, will be held Thursday at the Theta Upsilon Omega House at eight o'clock.

John Jay Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta entertained about fifty of the law school students at an informal smoker last Wednesday evening, October 10th, at the University Club. Short speeches were made by the Hon. George F. Wells, former Dean of the Law School of the University of North Dakota; the Hon. Kenneth N. Parkinson, Eastern District Justice of Phi Alpha Delta; Professor Fryer of the law school faculty and Mark L. Wilmer, Justice of Taft Chapter, Phi Alpha Delta. After speeches a clever entertainment program was put on by several artists from the Fox Studio, and then "cats" wound up a very enjoyable evening.

The Omicron Alpha Tau gave a follow-up smoker on Friday October 12, at the Tau chapter house 2034 F. St. Mr. David Tampe of Baltimore and Dr. Bogdonoff of Washington a frater of Beta chapter at Columbia University were the guests of honor. Smokes, refreshments, and entertainment combined to make a very pleasant evening.

A musicale and entertainment was given Sunday, October 7, 1923, by the successor of the Avukuh and Menorah Societies.

Mr. Jacob B. Lightman and Miss Esther Roe Wechsler gave brief outlines of the aims and purposes of the organization.

Sorority Rush Rules Announced by Council

Expenditures of Each Group Must Be Within Pan-hel Council's $175 Limit

According to ruling of the Pan-hellenic Council, sorority rushing starts on Sunday, October 7, and lasts until Saturday, October 27. During the three weeks of rushing, each sorority has three closed dates—a luncheon, an afternoon, and an evening. These parties are to be held one a week on week-ends. The closed dates begin Wednesday, October 10, in the afternoon and extend through Saturday, October 13, for the first week.

The same program is followed the other two weeks. The first three days of each week are open for rushing by all sororities at any hour. Invitations are not to be sent out before October 4. The rush fund is limited to $175. The total cost of all rushing parties, with the exception of luncheons in the fraternity rooms with four rushees, is included in this sum. At such luncheons, only the cost of the rushees' luncheon is deducted.

The non-communication period begins at 12 p. m., October 27, lasting till November 4. November 5, has been designated as pledge day.

MATCHES GO TO SEED PLAYERS

Considine, Stauby, Phillips and Sickler Take Matches Easily

QUARTER FINALS REACHED

Finals May Be Played Early Next Week, According to Dr. Holt

The Fall tennis tournament for men of the University is progressing rapidly, some players having already reached the quarter finals, according to Dr. A. B. Holt, directing the tourney.

The four seeded players have come through their matches without much trouble. Bob Considine, one of the foremost players in the District, has reached the quarter finals. After drawing a bye in the first round, he experienced little difficulty in downing Rice in a second round affair by the scores of 6-2, 6-1.

Al Stauby, another seeded player to reach the quarter finals won both his matches with comparative ease, defeated Messina 6-0, 6-1, and Snow 6-2, 6-4.

Phillips and Sickler, the remaining seeded players have won one match each and are expected to advance to the semi-finals with little trouble.

Two more men, Jaquette and Douthit, won both their first and second round matches and are now in the quarter-finals.

Dr. Holt, hopes to have the finals played the first part of next week.

The Summary:

First Round—Rice defeated Somers, 6-0, 6-3; MacMullen defeated Wertz, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2; Jaquette defeated Baldwin, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2; Douthit defeated Reed, 6-2, 6-2; Peck defeated Fowler, 6-0, 6-1; Sickler defeated Hutson, 6-2, 6-1; Phillips defeated Goldsmith, 6-3, 6-4; Hunnicutt defeated Henderson, 9-7, 6-0; Bradley defeated Cook, 6-0, 6-2; Stein defeated Tarshes, 10-8, 9-7; Seidel won by default; Snow defeated Scrivener, 6-0, 6-4; Stauby defeated Messina, 6-0, 6-1.

Second Round—Considine defeated Rice, 6-2, 6-1; Jaquette defeated MacMullen, 6-4, 10-8; Douthit defeated Peck, 6-1, 8-6; Stauby defeated Snow, 6-2, 6-4; Seidel defeated Stein, 6-1, 6-0.

Men's Soccer Team Starts Practice

Experienced Men From Other Universities Report For Place On Team

Soccer practice is now being held every afternoon on the Monument lot.

A number of experienced players as well as a large number of inexperienced players are endeavoring to get into shape. A great many players are from local Maryland high schools and the Middle Western states where soccer is a major sport. A number of promising players from the District high schools and prep schools are on the squad.

George Malloch is at the present time managing the squad. Derto, Smith, Handback, and Fuller are some of the men who have turned out for practice.

The Physical Education Department will endeavor to arrange games with other college teams as well as practices with local teams. J. R. Malloch, Secretary of the Washington Soccer Association, is coaching the squad.

VARIETY OF SPORTS OFFERED STUDENTS

Archery, Soccer, Riding and Hockey Among Sports Open to Women Students

Actual practice in both archery and soccer for women started on Monday, October 15, with lectures being given on the sports as preliminary work by Miss Eugenia Davis.

During the first week of classes Coach Davis thoroughly explained these sports to her girls to familiarize them with the games, so that now practice on the Ellipse is expected to progress rapidly. Julia Denning is assisting the instructor in archery, as there are approximately 60 girls enrolled in the archery classes.

Fifteen prospective horsewomen have now signed up for the riding classes and the group of girls are rapidly becoming adepts at the sport.

Co-ed hockey enthusiasts are practicing diligently under the tutelage of Mrs. Russell and her assistant, Jenny Turnbull.

Any George Washington girls who are interested in the above sports are cordially invited to participate, according to the physical training director, Mrs. Russell.

ADVOCATES STUDENT CONTROL IN COLLEGE

VERMILION—(Intercollegiate Press and Daily Nebraskan)—Taking issue with educators who believe that college students should be governed entirely by rules and regulations, J. H. Julian, vice-president and dean of student affairs at the University of South Dakota in addressing freshmen at the University, stated that the college offers the first opportunity for students to learn self-control.

"College makes students their own bosses for the first time," said Mr. Julian. "The students should be put squarely against this fact so that they may have a chance to build their own characters," said the dean. "The chief duty of a university is to build character."

Character, he said, is a "system of refined and reliable habits."

"Students who learn to pay their bills, to be honest, to treat the other fellow squarely, to be self-reliant, refined, and reliable; are building character," he declared.

PROHIBITION AGENTS TO VISIT MICHIGAN U.

ANN ARBOR—(IP). The cry of "paternalism" has been raised once more on the campus of the University of Michigan, as the undergraduates protest the recent invitation issued by President Clarence Cook Little to Federal prohibition agents to investigate conditions on the campus.

Federal "snoopers" visiting fraternity houses, smelling breaths and tapping hip pockets to determine whether students are drinkers are possibilities pictured today by opponents of President Little's plan to "dry up the University of Michigan campus."

Those who accuse the university authorities of becoming paternalistic recall that one year ago the university instituted a rule banishing the automobile from the campus.

The university authorities, however, have sided with the president in his campaign.

It is believed that Dr. Little plans to have agents nab bootleggers and liquor transporters, rather than to put a stop to "parties" which already are under way.

Many students frankly favor the investigation.

JANITOR RATES DEGREE

MIDDLEBURY, (IP).—Middlebury College has bestowed on a janitor an honor never in the history of the college accorded an official of the college.

The board of trustees, the heads of the college and the students took part in a ceremony in honor of William Farrell, for 43 years chief janitor of the college, who has been retired on a pension, the first ever granted any of the college's personnel.

Farrell has served under four presidents since he came here in 1885, has seen the college more than double its number of students, and has seen twelve new buildings appear on the campus. He has known personally two generations of Middlebury students.

Merger Coming

The Outlook and The Independent Magazines will merge beginning with the October 24 issue.

Mrs. Mitchell Carroll Returns From Summer's Research Work In Sicily

Studies in Connection with New Course in Etruscan Archaeology Take Mrs. Carroll to Rome, Sicily and the Dalmatian Coast

Mrs. Mitchell Carroll, or as the University catalogue reads, Caroline Benedict Carroll, Lecturer in Archaeology, has recently returned from a summer spent in research work in Sicily, Italy, and on the Dalmatian Coast. Mrs. Carroll has acquired the habit of going to European countries to study or wherever the best opportunities are offered for first hand knowledge relating to her University courses. Some three or four years ago, it was in order to bring her students in Prehistory the results of actual contact with the habitat and works of Prehistoric Man, that Mrs. Carroll visited the important Stone Age sites throughout Europe, took part in excavations as a member of the School of Prehistoric Research in Europe and received the friendly instruction of many of the great European scholars. A former year spent in Greek lands and another in Western and Southern Europe have added their experiences to the courses in Greek and Roman Archaeology. These activities and more are recorded in the 1928-29 issue of Who's Who.

Recent discoveries have aroused more interest than ever in the mysterious Etruscans, their origin, arts and religion, and a new course in Etruscan Archaeology has been announced in the catalogue to be given this year in the second semester. It is a logical introduction to Roman Archaeology, since Rome owed many of her arts of civilization to the Etruscans, who, in turn, had derived them largely from the Greeks. Studies in connection with this course took Mrs. Carroll to Rome where the museums are very important, and on through old Etruria where practically every town from Rome to Florence has its museum in which are preserved Etruscan objects from famous sites in the vicinity. Continuing northward to Bologna, the ancient Etruscan Felsina, she visited the collections there which are among the most interesting in Italy. The distinguished director of the Bologna Museum, Pericle Ducati has recently published the results of many years' research in his monumental work, Storia Arte Etrusca. He outlined for his American visitor many of his deductions as to the origin, language and arts of the Etruscans. Another scholar of Bologna has come into the foreground recently, Professor Trombetti, of the University of Bologna, who has brought out a book on the Etruscan language. The University itself goes back to legendary times in the tradition that it was founded by Theodorus the Great in A. D. 425, but according to record, its foundation took place in the 11th century. It is interesting to note that there were between three and five thousand students in the 12th to the 15th century and the number, it is said, increased in 1262 to nearly ten thousand. Dante and Petrarch and Tasso were among its famous students.

Italy and Sicily provide an inexhaustible field for the student of the past, Sicily with its many remains of Greek temples and theaters and treasures of sculpture, and Italy constituting a great storehouse of antiquities, while the cities of the Dalmatian Coast, fostered under the Empire, still preserve in their ruins, the ancient splendors of Roman architecture.

Regular Rifle Practice Preparing For Matches

Arrangements Are Being Made For Triangular Match To Be Held In Washington

Women's varsity rifle practice opened on October 15, in preparation for the two matches which are scheduled to be held before Christmas. Arrangements are being made for the Annual Triangular shoulder-to-shoulder match between Drexel Institute, Maryland University and George Washington University to be held in Washington this year.

The schedule for after Christmas includes the National Rifle Association Individual Intercollegiate matches to be held in January, and the team matches during February. Several crack varsity shots will enter the individual matches.

Practice will be held in the rifle range in Corcoran Hall regularly on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 11.00 to 3.00; Thursday evenings, 5.00 to 10.00 for beginners and Saturday, 11.00 to 5.00 for the varsity squad. Walter Stokes, official coach of women's rifle, will be assisted by Helen Prentiss and Frank Parsons as assistant coaches for beginners.

Several assistant managers have been appointed to assist Gene Cuvillier; Kity Junkin for night practice and Eleanor Kise, Grace McLean, Virginia Whitney and Judith Steel for day practice.

DISCARD HUDDLE SYSTEM

PRINCETON, N. J. (IP).—Princeton, who introduced the huddle system of calling signals in football in the East in 1924, has discarded the system as of no further use.

Coach Roper's decision was made after several weeks of practice on the part of his eleven, during which he learned, as he said, that the new rules, prohibiting a shift without a hesitation, has killed the effectiveness of the system of signal calling which now is used by practically every team in the country.

Yale gave up the idea several days ago. Other Eastern eleven's are said to be about ready to abandon it.

The huddle play was used for the first time in the East in 1922, when Iowa used it against Yale in the Bowl. Yale then tried it out without much success. Later, however, Princeton took up the system, and it proved so successful that it spread throughout the East.

KANSAS JAYHAWK COMES TO LAWRENCE CAMPUS

LAWRENCE, (IP).—The Jayhawk which has been a picture, a symbol to stir imaginations, or to decorate suit cases, store windows and university publications, has come to life.

The bird that has represented Kansas University's athletic teams through the years of sports history, has appeared in flesh and feathers on the campus.

The bird is a toucan, brilliantly colored, and fits in perfectly with the description which all Kansas students and alumni sing annually in the famous "I'm a Jayhawk" song.

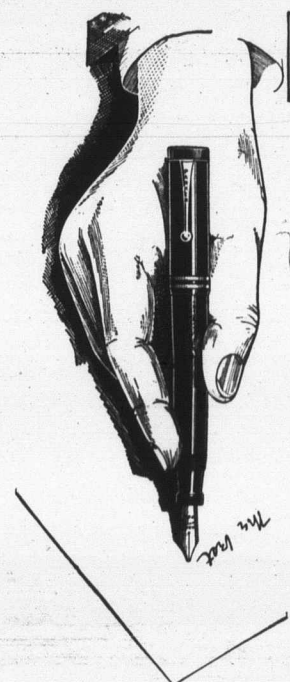

The bird is living at the Pl Upstillon house, the property of Tom Caffey. It was sent to Caffey from Nicaragua by Mrs. Robert W. Voeth, and daughters, who are there with Major Voeth of the United States Marine Corps.

Caffey hopes that his pet, which he has nicknamed "Chalkie" after the famous Rock Chalk yell, eventually will become the mascot of the Jayhawk football team this season.

VICTROLAS BARRED

MEMPHIS, (IP).—Found: a popular college regulation! Students at Southwestern college have little to worry them since it has been decreed that henceforth there will be no wail rhapsodies in jazz and noise forming a musical cocoon through the corridors of the university dormitories.

College officials are emphatic in their announcement that students are not to have victrolas in their rooms.

G. W. FRESHMEN LOSE FIRST GAME TO ALEXANDRIA

Colonial Gridders Beaten Only
After Close Struggle By
Score of 8-6

ADAMS AND GALLAGHER PERFORM TOUCHDOWNS

Alexandria High and George Washington Gridders Tied Until End of Third Quarter

George Washington's freshman team opened their season with a defeat at the hands of the Alexandria High School gridders, last Friday afternoon by the score of 8-6. The score indicates the closeness of the struggle, and all who journeyed to Alexandria were treated to a real contest.

The game opened with Parks kicking off for G. W. about forty yards. Alexandria was penalized for offside, and then punted back to the freshmen. On this play Parks was badly jostled but remained in the lineup. Successive plunges by Stagers and Adams gained considerable ground, but this was offset by a penalty for offside.

Alexandria intercepted a G. W. pass, and then plunged through for the first down of the game. They stopped gaining at this point and were forced to kick. Gates of G. W. then tried a run around right end which was good for twenty-five yards giving the freshmen their initial first down. Alexandria stopped Adams successfully and he was forced to punt. An Alexandria fumble was recovered for G. W. by "Reds" Boyle, as the first quarter ended.

Gates Passes Ball

Adams plunged through early in the new quarter for another first down. The Gates to Adams pass was successful but fell short of a first down. G. W. then kicked to Alexandria, who immediately punted back to the freshmen. Stagers made a nice run around right end, and Hall gained through center, placing the ball in scoring position. A moment later Bob Adams pushed the oval across the line for the first score of the game. Gates missed the try for point.

G. W. kicked off to the high schoolers who started right away to advance down the field. A first down and a penalty to G. W. for interference put Alexandria in a nice scoring position. A completed pass and a nice end run gave the Alexandrians their touchdown. Because Alexandria was offside, their extra point was disallowed.

They kicked off to the freshmen, who now started an aerial attack which was a failure as three successive passes were incomplete. They lost 15 yards because of penalties, but Adams made a nice punt of fifty yards which helped to make up the lost ground. The half ended just after Alexandria received the kick. The score at the end of the first half was Alexandria, 6, and G. W. Freshmen, 6.

Boyle Tackles Well

G. W. received Alexandria's kick off as the second half opened. Gates made a fine gain through the line, but when the play was over Gates was out. Johnny Sherry took the captain's position for the remainder of the game. During this period the fine tackling of "Reds" Boyle was noticed by all, as he seemed to be in the middle of every play. Sherry received a punt from Alexandria and Adams rushed the ball over for a first down. Sherry and Adams again by several line plunges made another first down for the freshmen. Stagers went through the center of the line for nine yards, but on the next play this gain was erased. The period ended with the ball in G. W.'s territory.

Adams punted poorly and this started their downfall. Alexandria, however, punted and gained considerable ground on the exchange. G. W. again kicked back to the high school boys who launched an aerial attack worthy of note. Dennis was jarred badly and Hudson was sent to finish the game at right end. Successive first downs pushed the ball very near to G. W.'s goal. They were thrown back, however, and lost quite a bit of what they had gained. Adams intercepted an alien pass, but was downed where he caught it. Two plunges netted the freshmen little, and as the period neared its close, Boyle made a wild heave from center, over the heads of the backfield men, and the ball rolled over the goal, where Adams fell on it scoring two points for Alexandria. Sherry kicked from the twenty yard line as the final whistle blew. The final score was Alexandria, 8 and G. W. Freshmen, 6.

Gallagher Shows Technique . . . The work of Adams, Gates and Sherry in the backfield was noticed by everyone and they made the majority of the gains for the freshmen.

INTERFRAT FRAY NOW UNDER WAY

First Basketball Between Greek
Teams Scheduled For October 23

PROSPECTS OF SERIES THIS YEAR ARE BRIGHT

Fourteen Games Scheduled; Final Game Between Champions to be on November 19

Interfraternity basketball is scheduled to get under way next Tuesday evening, October 23, at 8 o'clock, in the Gym, with Sigma Chi opposing Theta Upsilon Omega in the first game and Sigma Alpha Epsilon playing Acacia in the nightcap.

Prospects for the series this year are exceedingly bright with many of last year's players ready for the annual fray. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, winner of last year's tournament, has lost the services of several of its best men, but is being counted on to put up another strong quintet. Kappa Alpha, last year's runner-up in the interfraternity series, will be a strong contender for the cup again. No players have been lost to this organization while there are two valuable additions.

Carrying out the most practical plan for the play-off of the series, which has been used in the past, the eleven teams have been divided into two leagues. The final game will be played on Monday, November 19, for the cup.

The two leagues are as follows: League A, Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Theta Upsilon Omega, Sigma Nu and Theta Delta Chi. League B, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Acacia, Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Kappa Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The interfraternity basketball schedule is the following:

Tuesday, October 23: Sigma Chi v. Theta Upsilon Omega; Acacia v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
Thursday, October 25: Theta Delta Chi v. Delta Tau Delta; Kappa Sigma v. Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Friday, October 26: Sigma Chi v. Sigma Nu; Phi Sigma Kappa v. Acacia.

Monday, October 29: Delta Tau Delta v. Sigma Nu; Kappa Alpha v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Thursday, November 1: Theta Upsilon Omega v. Theta Delta Chi; Acacia v. Kappa Sigma.

Friday, November 2: Sigma Chi v. Theta Delta Chi; Sigma Phi Epsilon v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Monday, November 5: Theta Delta Chi v. Sigma Nu; Kappa Alpha v. Kappa Sigma.

Tuesday, November 6: Theta Upsilon Omega v. Delta Tau Delta; Acacia v. Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Thursday, November 8: Sigma Chi v. Delta Tau Delta; Phi Sigma Kappa v. Kappa Sigma.

Friday, November 9: Theta Upsilon Omega v. Sigma Nu; Kappa Alpha v. Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Monday, November 12: Phi Sigma Kappa v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Kappa Alpha v. Acacia.

Thursday, November 15: Phi Sigma Kappa v. Sigma Phi Epsilon; Sigma Alpha Epsilon v. Kappa Sigma.

OLD ORDER PASSES

SCHENECTADY—(IP). Dr. Chas. Alexander Richmond has resigned as president of Union College here after twenty years at the head of the institution. He gave as his reason the fact that he believes a younger generation should be in charge.

On the line, the tackling of Goldman and Boyle was the outstanding feature. . . . Gallagher, of Alexandria, seemed to be their savior, as he was the chief ground coverer and their best defensive man.

The summary:

COLONIALS FACE ST. FRANCIS NEXT

Buff and Blue Badly Crippled By Loss of "Babe" Clapper and
"Squint" Sanders

LITTLE IS KNOWN OF FOE

Saints Hold Strong Grove City College Eleven to 7 to Tie Score in Only Game

The Colonials will make their third out-of-town trip in as many weeks when they travel to Altoona, Pa., Saturday for a game with the St. Francis College team of that city.

Little is known of the strength of the St. Francis team as it has only played one game. In that combat, however, it exhibited unusual strength in holding the strong Grove College eleven to a 7-7 tie. Although only a small school, Grove College had one of the best teams among the smaller schools of Pennsylvania last year and the ability of the St. Francis eleven to hold it even resulted in a surprise to even its most ardent followers.

In meeting the Altoona team, the Hatchettes will be crippled worse than they have been for the past two years. On account of injuries received to date, including the two that occurred in the Lafayette game last Saturday, the backfield will be left without a varsity man in its make-up. In fact, Barrows will be the only one who is worthy of being called a veteran. Not only will it be an inexperienced combination, but its composite weight will average only 130 pounds, about 40 or 50 pounds lighter than the average quartet of ball-carriers.

Team Crippled

"Squint" Sanders who suffered a broken leg in the Lafayette game will be unable to play for the remainder of the season and his place will be hard to fill. Sanders was one of the few regulars back from last year and was being heavily depended upon to bolster the team's offense. Although weighing only 118 pounds, "Squint" was as good a man as Coach Crum had on his squad and until his injury Saturday was instrumental in aiding the Colonials in most of their long gains. He and Carey were forming a passing combination that was hard to stop. He was one of the few light men to make up for his light-weight disadvantage by exceptional football ability.

"Babe" Clapper is the other Colonial regular to be laid up for a couple of weeks by his injuries on Saturday. In wrenching his knee, "Babe" put himself on crutches and is scarcely able to hobble around. His absence leaves the team without its most dependable ball-carrier and his ground-gaining tactics were sorely missed in Saturday's encounter. No one has shown up yet who can equal the efforts of the "Babe."

With these two men "hors de combat" the Crummen are at a decided disadvantage. Barrows and McGrew who took their places Saturday are expected to appear in the line-up for future games. Completing the backfield will be Berkowitz and Frazier. The former is a clever and heady player but much too light for the types of teams that he must face. This lack of weight severely handicapped him in last week's struggle as he was constantly stopped at the line of scrimmage.

Although meeting an inferior team as compared to the previous opponents the Colonials cannot afford to let down in this week's game. Coach Crum is exerting every effort to have his men in condition to gain their first victory on Saturday and break into the win column. To date, the Colonials have been unable to cross their opponents' goal line and this fact is grating on some of the players' nerves. Not only are they wanting a victory over St. Francis, but they wish at the same time to pile up a high score if possible to make up for their previous failures.

Having two hard games out of the way, the Hatchettes are set to meet their future opponents and with the view of bettering their showing, Coach Crum is driving his men through strenuous drills every day.

Soccer Offered as New Sport For G. W. Women

Lectures of Instruction Given by Coach Davis Preliminary to Field Practice

Women's soccer practice opened on Monday, October 15, under the direction of Coach Eugenia Davis with Verna Parsons as manager. Practice is held on the Ellipse on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 3.30 to 4.30.

Preliminary to active field practice, a series of lectures have been given in the gymnasium by Miss Davis on rules of the game especially for beginners. Soccer is a new sport at G. W. U., but a large turnout has already put in appearance for practice. This sport is one of the electives allowed in place of the regular physical education work required of all freshman and sophomore women.

GOLF TOURNAMENT OPEN FOR TEAM ASPIRANTS

Men desiring to make the golf team will have an opportunity to show their ability by participating in a tournament to be held over the East Potomac Park Golf Course during the latter part of this month.

Players must play 18 holes before October 22, and their cards must be signed by two who play with them.

These scores must be turned in to Mr. Dove Thompson at the Gymnasium office, where the lowest sixteen men will qualify for match play. Two matches of 18 holes each must be played before October 28.

The winner and runner-up will be added to the team which now includes John C. Shorey, Charles W. Cole, Julian Heron, and Frank Alexander. This team will play an attractive schedule during the spring season.

Three Triumphant Yankees conduct the Blindfold test . . . and MILLER HUGGINS picks OLD GOLD

The Babe and Lou here will tell you that there is only one way to choose a pitcher . . . and that's to send him into the box and let him twirl a few innings.

So the best way to choose a cigarette is to put them all through their paces in the blindfold test.

In the test I have just made, Old GOLD played right into my mitt. Its zippy flavor and mellow smoothness couldn't be touched by the other three brands.

HOOVER CLUB IS FORMED AT G. W.

Group To Be Formally Organized At Meeting October 17

MEMBERSHIP IS LARGE

Membership Campaign and Assistance to Mail Voters Among Activities of Club

Although plans for the organization of a George Washington University Hoover-Curtis Club have only been under way since last Friday and no public appeal for members has been made, upward of one hundred men and women have enrolled and are wearing the blue and gold Hoover buttons. Officers will be elected and organization completed at the first meeting, Wednesday, October 17, at 8.15, Corcoran Hall.

An executive committee headed by Charles Laughlin of the Law School, and staffed from all the schools of the University is laying the ground work for an active fall which will include an intensive membership campaign, assistance to students voting by mail and participation in a monster rally of all the District of Columbia Hoover-Curtis college clubs, which, it is planned, will take place in the Washington Auditorium shortly before election.

This rally will be the culmination of the activities of the year and will probably feature a college president of national reputation as a speaker and the attendance of Secretary Hoover.

Speakers of high caliber will appear at the periodic meetings of the George Washington Club.

The George Washington Club is one in the District of Columbia division of the national college and university Hoover-Curtis clubs. Similar organizations are being placed in each of the local colleges. Charles Laughlin is the George Washington student member of the executive committee for the District division. An alumni member from George Washington is yet to be chosen. No dues or assessments will be required of members of the District clubs. Prominent alumni of local colleges, desiring to invest in good citizenship, have established a fund to carry on the activities of the local Hoover-Curtis college organizations.

DEBATERS TO OPPOSE BRITISHERS SELECTED

The G. W. U. Women's Debate team, who will meet the women's team from Great Britain is composed of Ruth Kernan, Margery Mothershead, and Helen Prentiss. All of these girls have been active on the varsity debate squad for some time.

The debate will be held on October 31, in the Gym, at 8 p. m. The subject of the debate is: "Resolved, That the popular reading of psychology undermines morality." The British women will uphold the proposition and the girls from G. W. will deny it.

The British women are experienced debaters and speakers and are very active at their universities.

Ball Thanks Flying Golf Ball For Addition of Rare Bird To His Collection

William Ball, G. W. U. birdologist, was enjoying a respite from his collecting activities not long ago as he watched a young lady golf tyro prepare to drive a ball out of the East Potomac Golf Links. She swung, the ball rose in a graceful parabola, and fell on the neck of a Pectoral Sandpiper.

Headless of peril from flying golf balls, Ball rushed out and retrieved the broken bird. It was dead and minus a few feathers, but the young bird student carried the remains to his home, and mounted them.

Now, the Sandpiper stands in a collection, a monument to the nonchalance of all the Sandpipers, Laughing Gulls, Plovers, and other rare birds, who made a playground of the Speedway this past month to the edification of golfers and "parkers."

PRES. MARVIN UPHOLDS COLLEGE AND YOUTHS

G. W. Head Serves Critics of University Education Before Mothers of College Students

The value of college education and the soundness of the younger generation were upheld by Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of George Washington University, in his talk to the mothers of freshmen girls who accompanied their daughters to school, Tuesday, October 9, Mothers' Day.

"Never before in the history of this country nor of any other country have we had such a fine, upstanding, sincere and honest young men and women in the universities," he told them.

President Marvin scored the critics of university education who, he said, have forgotten the principle of education. "They confuse educational devices with education," he asserted. "There is only one principle of education and that is life reacting upon life, the contact of one personality with another."

"The university cannot educate your boy or girl," Dr. Marvin told the mothers. "They must do that job themselves. The only thing the university possibly can do is to build an environment about them in which they can make an intelligent selection of the things we have which are most worth while."

"Education," said Dr. Marvin, "is nothing more than the adaptation of youth to those things which are about us, and your task and mine is to keep abreast of these things, adapting ourselves to the new in life, to the fine challenges which are abroad, thus renewing our youth constantly, day by day, to keep up with the generation that is now coming into its own and training for leadership for tomorrow."

President Marvin referred briefly to the program of adult education which is to be developed at the George Washington University with a view to supplying the intellectual need of those whose days of formal education are passed.

Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., only woman member of the board of trustees of the University, greeted the visiting mothers "as an official of the University and as a fellow member."

"The George Washington University," she pointed out, "offers the privilege of attendance at a great university during those years when we would hesitate to send our young sons and daughters away from home influences."

Newman Club To Hold Hallowe'en Gathering

Next Meeting Scheduled to be Held in Corcoran Hall, Thursday

Arrangements have been completed for the annual Hallowe'en Dance sponsored by the Newman Club. The affair will be given in the beautiful Chantilly Room of the Hotel Hamilton, on Monday, October 29. Music will be furnished by the famous Chillum Manor Orchestra. Masques are preferred. The price of admission will be $1.50 per couple.

The members of the Newman Club and all Catholic students of the University will be the guests of Miss Louise McGuire at a tea on Sunday, October 21, from 4 to 6, at the National Catholic Social Service School, 2400 Nineteenth Street N. W.

The next meeting of the club will be held in Room 29 of Corcoran Hall, on Thursday, October 18, at 8.15 p. m.

Several amendments to the club constitution and other important business will be acted upon. A feature of the evening will be an open forum for the discussion of topics of present day interest. All students are invited.

MRS. WILEY ENTERTAINS COMMITTEE FOR BENEFIT

Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley entertained at a buffet supper yesterday evening for members of the committee arranging for the benefit, which will be given by the Columbian Women of the George Washington University, at Polli's Theater on the evening of October 29, when Miss Ethel Barrymore will appear in the first Washington performance of her famous new play, "The Kingdom of God," by the eminent Spanish playwright, Martinez Sierra.

Among those who are sponsoring the benefit are: Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Mrs. John D. Lerner, Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., Mrs. Charles W. Richardson, Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle and Mrs. D. Kerfoot Shute. Mrs. Edwin Behrend is chairman of the benefit. The proceeds will be devoted to the women's quarters in the proposed third unit of the new building plant of the George Washington University.

Experiments Made on Students in Dr. Ragatz's Medieval History Classes

Psychology and Education Departments Cooperate with Dr. Lowell Ragatz to Find More Scientific Method for Instructing Knowledge and Grading Examinations

How would you like being a human guinea pig? To be injected with intellectual hypodermics and mind nutrients, to be fed on knowledge tonics and educational symposia, to have your brain pan tested through cultures, and have scientists inspect and classify your thinking apparatus according to ability?

Students in Dr. Lowell Joseph Ragatz's Medieval History classes are playing this role in one of the most interesting fact finding experiments in the development of education.

The Departments of Psychology and Education are cooperating with Dr. Ragatz through the efforts of Professor J. Orin Powers, and Dr. Fred August Moss to find a more scientific method for instructing knowledge and grading examinations. Last year the Medieval History classes chosen for the purpose were subjected to many varieties of tests, whose results proved both enlightening and encouraging in especially two salient points.

Unsurprising students were grouped into quiz sections according to their respective ability. Those who made good marks were culled together in one class, those who had difficulties were placed in another.

Upon checking up, it was found that when pupils saw themselves among classmates of their own intelligence, they worked hard to keep up with the group; whereas in a mixed class the poorer students were afraid of speaking out for fear of being laughed at, here under the new arrangement they hadn't the slightest hesitancy.

Personal element plays a great part in the correction of examinations. A single paper given to a group of teachers to correct varies often as greatly as 30 points. After months of labor Dr. Ragatz has worked out a series of examination questions which can have but a single answer. Several persons may mark the test, but it has been found, they will always obtain the same total average.

This year further experiments are being made with the objective of self-education through the aid of Dr. Ragatz's newly published syllabus. This copyrighted work is unique in four respects; it has blank pages for lecture notes, space for collateral reading notes, places for maps and picture illustrations, and sample examination questions.

Giving the students the examination questions several days before the test is having successful results.

Moss, Ragatz, and Powers express relation at the developments of their experiments.

COLONIALS BATTLE LAFAYETTE TEAM

yard line. Guest went through the center of the line for 2 yards and a first down. Chimenti raced around end to the 6-yard line. On the next two plays Chimenti failed to gain through the G. W. line. Lafayette was penalized 5 yards. McKean recovered Wilson's fumble on the 3-yard line. It was a lucky break for the Maroon. Guest went through to the 1-yard line. Chimenti went over for a touchdown on the next play. Thompson kicked goal.

Carey took the kick-off to the 25-yard line. Barrows went to the 28-yard line. Sanders got 3 yards at center. Carey made a beautiful pass to Sanders who was downed on the Lafayette 33-yard line. It was a 32-yard heave. Berkowitz failed to gain. Carey took a pass from Sanders on the 31-yard line. On an attempted pass, Sanders was thrown for a 9-yard loss. Carey kicked out of bounds on the Lafayette 28-yard line.

Guest went through to the 32-yard line. Shellenberger's pass was incomplete. Wilson made a yard through center. Shellenberger punted to Sanders on the G. W. 25-yard line. Sanders fumbled the ball and Chimenti recovered for Lafayette. Guest went through tackle to the 14-yard line and a first down. Wilson got 6 yards as the quarter ended. Score, 7-0.

Second Quarter

Lafayette's ball on the G. W. 8-yard line. Wilson went through to the 3-yard line. Guest fumbled and G. W. recovered.

Carey kicked to Shellenberger who ran the ball back to the G. W. 5-yard line before being downed. On the next play, Guest went over for a touchdown. Thompson kicked goal.

Barrows took the kick-off back to the 30-yard line. Berkowitz failed to gain at center. Berkowitz made 3 yards through the line, Sanders being hurt on the play. Sanders remained in the game. Carey took Sanders' pass to the 38-yard line. Carey kicked to Shellenberger on the Lafayette 40-yard line. Shellenberger returning the punt 5 yards.

Chimenti went through tackle to the G. W. 36-yard line and a first down. Shellenberger's pass was incomplete. Lafayette sent in an entire new backfield in Woodfin, Rambo, Wolbert, and Wilson.

Wolbert was smeared on the 45-yard line on an attempted pass. Wolbert punted to the 5-yard line. Berkowitz failed to gain in two tries. Carey kicked out of bounds on the 35-yard line.

Rambo and Morrison made only a yard in two attempts. Rambo passed to Wolbert for 10 yards and a first down. Woodfin got 3 yards at center. Rambo made 5 yards through the line. Morrison went through to the 10-yard line. Woodfin went around end to the 5-yard line. Lafayette was penalized 5 yards. Morrison failed to gain. Barrows broke up Rambo's pass which was headed for Wolbert standing behind the goal-line. Rambo went through center to the 6-yard line. Wolbert took the ball from Rambo and raced to the 3-yard line. At this point the G. W. defense stiffened and Lafayette lost the ball on downs, the Colonials taking the oval on the G. W. 3-yard mark.

Berkowitz went through tackle for 3 yards. After being stopped on the next play, Carey kicked to Wolbert, who ran the ball back to the 34-yard line. Rambo took a pass for a short gain as the first half ended. Score, 14-0.

Third Quarter

Sanders was downed on the 15-yard line after receiving the kick-off. Sanders failed to gain and Carey punted to Chimenti who fumbled on the 36-yard line and Van Meter recovered for G. W. Guest intercepted Sanders' pass and ran back to the G. W. 26-yard line.

Wilson made 2 yards. Guest went to the 20-yard line. Lafayette was again penalized 5 yards. Wilson fumbled but recovered. Shellenberger's pass was incomplete and G. W. took the ball on downs.

Carey passed to Sanders who went to the 27-yard line. Berkowitz failed to gain in two attempts. Carey kicked and Van Meter downed the ball on the G. W. 35-yard line. Guest made

3 yards. Lafayette took another 5-yard penalty. Wilson made 4 yards through the line. Shellenberger's pass just missed Wilson who had a clear field ahead of him to the goal line. Shellenberger then made a successful pass to Wilson who was downed on the 13-yard line. Guest went through to the 6-yard line. Guest carried the ball to within one foot of the goal and, on the next play went over for a touchdown. Thompson again kicked goal.

After the score, the entire second team of Lafayette took the field. The kick-off went over the G. W. goal line and the ball was brought out to the 20-yard line. Carey's pass was incomplete. Sanders lost a yard. Barrows took Carey's pass to the 34-yard line. Sanders' pass was incomplete. G. W. was penalized 5 yards for holding. Allhouse took Carey's pass to the 37-yard line. Berkowitz made 3 yards. Carey kicked out of bounds on the G. W. 45-yard line.

Morrison made a yard. Woodfin fumbled and Carey recovered. Barrows was stopped and Carey's pass was incomplete. G. W. was again penalized 15 yards for holding. Carey's pass was grounded. Carey, standing on his own goal line, passed 30 yards to Sanders who ran to the 45-yard line. Sanders was hit by two men at once and his leg was broken. McGrew took Sanders' place. Carey kicked to the Lafayette 35-yard line as the quarter ended. Score, 21-0.

Fourth Quarter

Lafayette was penalized to their own 30-yard line. Lisenring passed to Rambo who went to the G. W. 47-yard line. Rambo made 2 yards through the line. Woodfin tore around end for 8 yards. Sherriff went through for 5 yards and a first down. Rambo went to the 25-yard line. Woodfin failed to gain and Lafayette was again penalized 5 yards. Lisenring passed to Sherriff who ran to the 20-yard line and a first down. Sherriff went through for 10 yards. Rambo wiggled through the entire G. W. line for a touchdown. Lisenring kicked goal.

Barrows took the kick-off to the 27-yard line. G. W. was given the ball on the 38-yard line when Etter intercepted forward pass. Sherriff intercepted a pass on the 45-yard line, and Barrows then intercepted a Lafayette pass on the 35-yard line as the final whistle blew.

GERMAN CLUB TO MEET

Anyone who can speak German, no matter how fluently, is urged by Schoenfeld Verein, the German organization at George Washington, to come to their first meeting, Friday, October 26, at 9.30.

Besides having highly entertaining and quite informal meetings where everyone has a good time, the club hopes to specialize this year in musical shows and a number of one-act plays as a side line. Verein expects to surpass all former efforts with their future program.

Gentlemen:

While in Banff, Alberta, in 1909, I climbed Tunnell Mountain. On top of this mountain there is a cairn of stones where tourists leave their cards with remarks about the scenery, etc. Not having a card with me, I left a tin of Edgeworth Sliced, scribbled my name and address on a piece of paper, and said, "Have a fill on me."

I have kept up a haphazard correspondence with one of three who wrote me thanking me for the Pipeful of Edgeworth. What makes me write you is that today from Australia I received two slices of Edgeworth with the words, "Have a fill on me," so you see Edgeworth keeps friends friendly.

Yours sincerely,

DEBATERS FAVOR HUGE EXPENSES FOR CAMPAIGNS

Society Maintains Millions Are Necessary For Dissemination of Political Information

COLUMBIAN ADMITS TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

Frisbie Conducting Tennis Tournament Among Members for Silver Cup Donated by Rumbough

That modern presidential campaigning is not a waste of money, time and energy was the conclusion arrived at by the members of the Columbian Debating Society at their last meeting on Friday evening, October 12, after an interesting debate. Hearst R. Duncan, the first of the debaters to speak, affirmed that modern campaigning is an enormous waste of money. "The National Committees of both parties spend about $16,000,000 for spellbinders," he said, "who do not even know the party whom they represent. These spellbinders do nothing but excite the poor and uneducated to arouse their prejudices."

C. T. Shanner denied that the millions spent in presidential campaigning was wasted. "A strong campaign would help to clarify the issues. It would enable the debaters to know whom they are voting for. Modern presidential campaigning is a great American entertainment. Anything that would entertain so many people is surely not a waste of money, time and energy."

Last-Hour Campaigns scored
George E. Weigle, Columbian's eccentric debater, made a strong attack on modern campaigning. "The nominating conventions are enough publicity for the qualifications and character of the candidates. This last-minute campaigning is an enormous waste of money. Every voter knows for whom he is going to vote right after the candidates of both parties are nominated."

Andrew Howard paraphrased a war cry of a former day, "Millions for political information but not one cent for bribery," as a reply to his opponents. "The money spent on campaigns is not collected from poor, starving people, but from men and women who can afford to give away some of their money for the dissemination of political knowledge."

Clever Remarks Made
The members who spoke from the floor after the constructive debaters had made their talks brought out interesting points. Their remarks were very clever. Those who made short talks were Edward C. Gallagher, Bryant Z. McLeary, W. S. Rumbough, Ralph F. Joyce, Karl F. Frisbie, Richard F. Johnson, J. R. Quijano, John F. Jackson and James G. Wingo.

The house voted in favor of modern campaigning. There were only very few who were against it. The next debate of the Columbian Debating Society will be held on Friday evening, October 19, at 8:00 o'clock, in Corcoran Hall 15. The subject will be: "Resolved, That this house favors the suppression of the Anti-Saloon League." John F. Jackson and Edmund Clubb will take the affirmative side; Douglas Hatch and J. R. Quijano, the negative.

A dozen new members were initiated last Friday night. The society is still open for some new members. A tennis tournament is also being conducted by the debaters. Captain W. S. Rumbough is offering the silver cup. Karl Frisbie is conducting the tournament. Many members have signified their intention to enter the tennis contest.

ORCHESTRA PLANS YEAR

A meeting of the University Orchestra was held Wednesday, October 10, in Corcoran Hall 1. Virginia Crocker is the manager and Professor Gropp is faculty advisor. Extensive plans were made for the coming year, providing enough people come out for the orchestra. Although violins are needed, most any other instruments will be gladly welcomed. The orchestra gave several recitals last year and furnished the music for the play, "2 x 2 = 5."

GHOST DRAWINGS

University artists are asked to submit drawings for the next issue of The Ghost, which will be the Political Number, by Saturday, October 20, to Elizabeth Buntin, 7325 Blair Road N. W. Drawings may also be left in Dean Doyle's office in Building 7.

DR. COHEN, G. W. PROF., PUBLISHES MATH BOOK

"Heaviside's Electrical Circuit Theory" is Title of Dr. Cohen's Publication

Dr. Louis Cohen, Professor of Electrical Engineering at George Washington University, has just written a new book, "Heaviside's Electrical Circuit Theory," which was published by the McGraw-Hill Book Company. The book is a simplification of Heaviside's operational calculus.

Professor M. I. Pupin, of Columbia University, says in his introduction to the book, "Doctor Louis Cohen's studies of Heaviside's work are well known from his publications, and they are highly appreciated. Electrical engineering is to be congratulated upon the fact that Dr. Cohen in his book gives us a splendid summary of that part of Heaviside's mathematical analysis which bears upon the theory of the electrical circuit. It will be found that Dr. Cohen's presentation of this subject is so clear and simple that many of the difficulties which the student finds in Heaviside's original work have disappeared. Heaviside's work is epoch making and every electrical engineer should familiarize himself with it, to that extent, at least, which is given in the judiciously selected parts discussed in this excellent book."

G. W. Interfrat Council Sponsors Open Dance

Next Dance of Series to be Held in Corcoran Hall on November 3

The first of a series of dances sponsored by the Interfraternity Council to promote better school spirit in the University was given on Saturday night, October 13, in Corcoran Hall, from nine until midnight.

Music was furnished by Kenny Mufford's orchestra. The success of this dance definitely decided that the second of the series be held in Corcoran Hall, on November 3, after the game with William and Mary. It is the aim of the Council to hold these dances open to any student in the University at a low cost about twice monthly as long as they remain popular.

BIG ATTENDANCE MARKS GLEE CLUB REHEARSAL

A large attendance marked the second rehearsal of the Men's Glee Club, held on Thursday evening, October 11, in Corcoran Hall. At least sixty-five members were present. Further membership in the organization is now closed.

The tentative schedule, which will begin sometime around Christmas, includes some engagements that promise to afford some excellent musical entertainment. Robert Harmon is director of the club; Harry Douglas president-elect; Elmer Gorn manager; and Gordon McBride, assistant manager.

Y. COMMITTEES CHOSEN

Committee members were announced at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held Monday noon in the Women's Building. The chairmen of the committees are as follows: Program, Sarah Reed; Social Service, Isabel Robbins; Social, Elizabeth Miles; Publicity, Elizabeth Buntin; Finance, Margaret Monk; and Membership, Winnie Beall.

Caroline Hobbs and Elizabeth Buntin reported the Eagles Mere conference that they attended in June as representatives of the George Washington University Y. They urged that more girls go next year, as they were sure they would benefit by the conference a great deal.

Cues, Curtain Calls and Clinches

By STAGE DOOR JOHNNY

BELASCO

The Belasco Theater will offer tomorrow evening a new play by Arthur Somers Roche, entitled "The Crooks' Convention." Mr. Roche is a well-known writer of fiction, and has chosen for his subject as a dramatist the conceded fact that crime in this country is an organized institution and under the direct control of master minds. The story of "The Crooks' Convention" deals with the underworld in all its various phases, and its locale is in any of the larger cities.

The editor of a metropolitan newspaper devotes the columns of his paper to long diatribes concerning the preponderance of crime and the lack of any disposition on the part of the proper authorities to curb its growth or bring the malefactors to justice. Lyle D. Andrews, owner of the Vanderbilt Theater, New York, is presenting the play, and has selected a cast of sterling worth to interpret the several roles. There are 26 speaking parts and among the artists appearing in same are Leo Donnelly, Joseph Kilgour, Frank Monroe, William Corbett, Hermann Leib, King Calder, Ignacio Martinetti, Marcia Byron, Mabel Turner, Gladys Feldman, Kate Pier, Romer and Josephine Morse. The staging has been directed by Alexander Leftwich.

COLUMBIA

The picture that has been breaking all records at Loew's Columbia, "Our Dancing Daughters," an M-G-M sound production, remains there for a second week.

Joan Crawford and an all-star cast are featured in this production of jazz and youth. Johnny Mack Brown plays the part of a young man whose affections are sought by Joan Crawford and Anita Page. The cast in addition to those already mentioned includes Dorothy Sebastian, Nils Asther, Edward Nugent and others of note.

The picture treats the problem of modern youth in a different way. It introduces three types of girls, the jazz-mad girl, the girl strictly reared and the girl who pretends things, and the picture tells what kind men marry.

In addition to the feature there are other sound attractions which include two Metro-movietone acts, Marion Harris, the song-bird of jazz, and Leo Beers, the famous whistling songster, and the Fox Movietone News. The M-G-M News, a color classic, "Gold," the Columbia Orchestra, under the direction of Claude Burrows, and an organologue round out the bill.

EARLE

For the week commencing with the midnight premiere last Friday, the Earle theater presents a Warner Bros. Vitaphone talking picture, "State Street Sadie," featuring the same cast that appeared in "The Girl from Chicago," led by Conrad Nagel and Myrna Loy.

The others in the cast include Pat Hartigan, Georgia Stone and William Russell, as gamblers.

The story? There's a murder to be cleared, a twin brother of a suicide who impersonates his brother in order to get the gang leader, and the daughter of the slain police officer who goes right into the den of crooks, to get her revenge, and incidentally (or not so incidentally, as you please) the man she loves.

The program for the week is completed by a specially arranged concert overture by the augmented Earle Orchestra under the direction of Daniel Breckin, shorter Vitaphone presentations and many other house features.

FOX

Three young Americans, two boys and a girl, actually conquer the air in "The Air Circus," the screen feature current at the Fox Theater as the second William Fox talking picture to play his local theater. These youngsters are David Rollins, Arthur Lake and Sue Carol. They operate their own planes, doing the loop, falling leaf, spiral and other stunts.

The play tells of Young America's attempts to emulate Col. Lindbergh and has to do with commercial aviation. Seventy-five per cent of the picture was taken in the air over Clover Field, Santa Monica, Calif.

The two principal artists of the stage portion of the program will be Lillian Bernard and Florence Henri, two girls who when they have sung a song have sung it! John Griffin, who recently sang, "Laugh, Clown Laugh," is returning for a special engagement.

The Fox Orchestra inaugurates a series of symphonic-jazz concerts preceding the Sunday opening, with Meyer Davis as guest conductor, while the Fox Movietone News will have many interesting world events in sound.

KEITH'S

The stage production for the week of October 14, at B. F. Keith's Theater will be topped by Mel Klee, blackface comedian, in his own revue with Morey Barton and Harry Young. Al Borde, Grace and Coly Worth, Kay McKay, Harry Weber's Pomposus Revue, Gertrude Kenny and Jack Haisler's girls.

The revue is in nine scenes. It begins in the green room of the theater and carries on with comedy scenes and numbers in real revue fashion, concluding with the ninth episode in a dressing room back stage. There is a thread of a story, strong enough to hold the varied assortment of revue material together.

On the screen will be presented the latest Pathe thriller, "Captain Swagger," starring Rod LaRocque, featuring Sue Carol.

The supporting cast includes Richard Tucker, Victor Potel and Elrich Haupt. There is an airplane battle, cabaret holdup and thrill love romance, in this captivating love romance. It is a wholesome love romance bubbling and sparkling with youth and high spirits, packed with dramatic action, humor and tingling suspense.

There will be supplementary screen features.

METROPOLITAN

"The Singing Fool" has played to approximately 75,000 people of Washington in the last two weeks. As the French would say, "seventy-five thousand people can't be wrong." Therefore, it is announced, the picture starring the "world's greatest entertainer," Al Jolson, will be held over at Crandall's Metropolitan for the third week.

Vitaphone provides a perfect medium for the Jolson songs, new and old. His speaking voice, too, is amazingly effective. Two leading ladies, Betty Bronson and Josephine Dunn, play, with understanding, contrasting types. Three-year-old Davey Lee is the "little feller," to whom the "Singing Fool" devotes his life and his songs. Reed Howes makes an imposing menace to the family happiness of the hero, and Edward Martin is the suave man of the world.

The "Singing Fool" is Al Jolson's most significant gesture. It is a tender and glamorous impersonation, all melody and eagerness; nor is blackface characterization completely left out. It is the Jolson the world acclaims—and a new Jolson—more sincere and more moving than ever before.

NATIONAL

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson are not strangers to Washington theatergoers, nor is their wonderful picture, "Simba," which made so many friends upon its showing here last spring that the management of the National Theater put forth a special effort to bring it here for a return engagement, beginning Sunday, with matinees daily at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were four years making this remarkable picture, a tribute in itself to their patience and perseverance. This photographic record shows every wild animal of the African jungle, and though the "Look pleasant, please!" expression is strikingly natural, cold chills run down the spinal column when an ugly rhinoceros takes exceptions to being photographed.

PALACE

Esther Ralston, in a Paramount sound production, "The Sawdust Paradise," is now the feature screen attraction at Loew's Palace.

The picture is a slice of life from the colorful career of a carnival girl. It has a novel angle, demonstrating how a girl with real showmanship ability uses a circus ballyhoo—steam calliope and all the trimmings—to put over an evangelist's meeting, and how she incidentally accomplishes a great deal of good.

On the stage Wesley Eddy and his Palace Synchronizers are presented in Frank Cambria's latest Loew-Public production, "Beaux Arts Frolic," featuring Earl and Bell, Paul Kirkland, Nino Fucile, Bryant, Rains and Young and the Gambia-Hale Girls.

Supplementary attractions include the Fox Movietone News, M-G-M News, the Palace Orchestra, under the direction of Harry Borkes, and an organ novelty with Charles Gage at the console.

POLIT'S

McIntyre and Heath, the oldest and probably the best loved of any comedy team the stage has known, and who only last week celebrated the fifty-fourth anniversary of their theatrical partnership, come to Polit's in their latest work, "Headin' South."

The producers are declared to have given "Headin' South" a particularly massive and elaborate production. The company, numbering some one hundred people, appears to have been selected with unusual care and fine discrimination. Especial stress is laid upon the fact that each of the two acts and nine scenes are spectacular in character, and that the sartorial display is of unusual brilliance.

Edgar Smith wrote the book of "Headin' South;" Alfred Bryan supplied the lyrics, and Jean Schwartz composed the music, of which there are more than twenty numbers.

In the large cast of principals perhaps those best known here are Frankie James, Jane Taylor, Bert Swor, Eric Titus, Lillian Rosedale, Vivien Holt, Beth Miller, Harry Stockwell, Allene May, Pattie Dobbs, Mable Elaine, Bud Williamson, Joe Randolph and his Dixie Daisies, the musical bootblacks, and a big Broadway beauty chorus of nearly one hundred young singers and dancers. The dance numbers have been staged by Le Roy Prinz.

There will be a matinee on Saturday.

JERRY SICKLER RETURNS TO COLLEGE FROM TOUR

Jerry Sickler, a familiar figure around school, has been missing from the campus this fall since the start of school. Jerry has been playing with the National Theatre players, since August, and has just concluded an engagement at the Auditorium Theatre, Baltimore, Md.

During his six weeks' engagement there, he has had parts in the following plays: "Seventh Heaven," "Cradle Snatchers," "Interference," "Little Miss Bluebeard," "Nightstick." Jerry has now returned to school to resume his studies. He intends to play with the National Theatre Players again next summer.

CHERRY TREE BOARD PLANS YEAR'S WORK

Plans for 1929 Cherry Tree Discussed At Cherry Tree Staff Meeting Held Wednesday

At the Cherry Tree meeting held last Wednesday night, October 10, the editors of the various departments were notified to get their assignments from the chairman of the staff.

To date announcements as to the plan of this year's book have been tentative. However, a new art scheme is to be adopted, as well as the cover for the 1928-29 edition. This has been approved by the board as well as several changes in the general makeup which will make it decidedly different from former Cherry Trees.

Discussion was also held concerning a beauty contest this year. Details on this have not been decided by the board of control but an announcement of this will be posted later in The Hatchet.

Sittings for photographs, it is expected, will begin in a week or so; this will also be announced in The Hatchet as well as last-minute details decided by the board.

Inventor Loans Office To Columbian Women

Emile Berliner Turns Over Office For Headquarters of Benefit Theatre Performance

Emile Berliner, famous inventor and philanthropist, has turned over to the Columbian Women of the George Washington University, his office at 1464 Columbia Road, to be used as a headquarters for the transaction of business in connection with the benefit theatre performance, which that organization is giving on the evening of October 29.

Mr. Berliner is one of the box-holders for the occasion.

Mr. Berliner is known all over the world as the inventor of the loose contact telephone transmitter or microphone. It was he who discovered, in 1877, that a loose contact will act as a telephone receiver, and he was the first to use an induction coil in connection with transmitters. He is the patentee of other valuable inventions in telephony. In 1887, he invented the Gramophone, the first talking machine which utilized a groove of even depth and varying direction, and in which the record groove not only vibrates but also propels the stylus across the record (known also as the Victor Talking Machine), for which he was awarded the John Scott Medal and Elliott Cresson Gold Medal by the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia. He also invented and perfected the present method of duplicating disc records.

Under Mr. Berliner's direction, his son, Henry A., designed the first successful helicopter, rising and sustaining himself in it in November, 1919.

Mr. Berliner was born at Hanover, Germany, and was educated in the Samson School at Wolfenbuttel. He came to the United States in 1870.

In addition to his work as an inventor, he has devoted much of his time to philanthropic work.

OTHER G. W. FACULTY IN WHO'S WHO LISTED

In addition to the names of The George Washington University faculty in Who's Who as stated in the article published in the issue of October 3, the following should be added:

Earl Caspar Arnold, William Cline Borden, Caroline Benedict Carroll, Everett Monroe Ellison, Leslie Tracy Gager, Rolvix Harlan, Charles Edward Hill, Oscar Benwood Hunter, Dorsey William Hyde, Jr., John Raymond Lapham, Stephen Panaretoff, Edward Henry Sehrt, and William Davis Tewksbury.

McBRIDE PRESIDENT OF ENGINEERING CLASS

Owing to a mistake in the records, the list in the Handbook of the officers of the Sophomore Engineering Class is incorrect. By application of the order of succession to office, G. W. McBride has been advanced to the office of president, J. M. Brearly is vice president, and W. O. Lewis fills the position of secretary of the class. To take care of the other posts President McBride has appointed H. J. Caul as treasurer, and J. R. Brasel as sergeant-at-arms.

Big Debate Schedule In Store For University

New Able Members Fortify Veteran Debaters of Varsity Men's Debate Squad

Varsity debating received its full share of attention along with other college activities when try-outs for the men's debate squad were held on Friday evening, October 5, in Corcoran Hall. Candidates made five minute talks on subjects of their choosing. Dr. Gilbert Hall, Dr. George L. Farnham, and C. Walter Young acted as judges.

Among the large number of candidates some very promising material was revealed. With the influx of new members together with a number of veterans from last year's squad another highly successful year for debating may be anticipated. The Debate Council is already busy making plans and everything indicates that big things are in store for the forensic art. The tentative schedule which has been arranged includes many of the big schools of the East. It is expected that George Washington University will be ably represented this year in debating against the best teams in the country.

PROVOST WILBUR GUEST OF CO-WORKERS TODAY

Provost William Allen Wilbur is being tendered a luncheon today by his fellow-workers, the Faculty, in the Carpenter Room of the Cosmos Club. President Marvin will preside at this luncheon, and the committee in charge consists of De Witt Clinton Croissant, chairman, Elmer Louis Kayser, and Charles Sidney Smith. The Faculty wishes to show their grateful recognition of Provost Wilbur's signal services as Dean of Columbian College for the past twenty-four years.

He received his A. B. at Brown University, 1888, his A. M. in 1894, and his Litt. D. in 1916. He is a member of the Delta Kappa-Epsilon Fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, and the Cosmos, National Press, and the Federal Schoolman's Clubs. He has been a teacher of English at the University since 1897, and was Dean of Columbian College from 1904 to 1928.

DR. FINNEGAN TO LECTURE

The District of Columbia Education Association announces a lecture by Dr. Thomas E. Finnegan, President of the Eastern Teaching Films, Inc., Rochester, N. Y., on Friday, October 19th, at 8 p. m. in Corcoran Hall, George Washington University.

Dr. Finnegan, who was formerly State Director of Education for Pennsylvania, is a delightful speaker and his lecture will be illustrated by motion pictures. The association extends a cordial welcome to all who may be interested. No fee will be charged.

BUSINESS HIGH ALUMNI

All Business High School students now attending George Washington University are invited to a dance given by the Alumni Association of Business High School at L'Aiglon, on Thursday, October 25.
